Subject: Transition Violence in Washington, DC

Region 7 colleagues,

Like you, I was appalled by the attack on the U.S. Capitol yesterday and the violence that accompanied it. For all the freedoms granted us by our constitution, violence in their expression is never appropriate.

Today, as we focus our attention on the important work of EPA, please know that myself, Ed, and all of Senior Staff continue to be committed to the transition of authority from this administration to President-elect Joe Biden's Administration. We have been responsive to all requests for briefing materials and in concert with EPA headquarters, we remain in complete compliance with the Presidential Transition Act. We honor this statute in the same manner we honor every act of Congress that has given EPA authority to protect human health and the environment.

What I ask of you, I commit to each of you: to fully execute the authorities given to us by Congress, and to uphold the constitution as I swore to when I took my oath of office.
